LATEST WEATHER IN SERFAUS-FISS-LADIS

Today, Monday 23.10.

The current early winter weather is only temporary, towards midweek it will soon be replaced by warmer autumn weather. A new surge of early winter cold air will approach towards next weekend, it will be stronger and longer lasting than the current approach. On Tuesday, a warm front will brush against our region and bring back autumnal warmth. This temperature rise, which will reach high altitudes, will be accompanied by larger patches of clouds, consequently only weak sunshine is still expected. Wednesday and Thursday promise nice weather, before a strong cold front will result in a new change in weather throughout the course of Friday.
